KINNEY'S RUMBLE CONCERN CHASSED, &c.

September 16, 1845.

GENTLEMEN: I avail myself of the opportunity offered of sending you a line by the Army Mail, which leaves here this morning en route for your city. Since my last letter of the 26th ult. we are in receipt of news from Madras, to the 2d instant, only two days since, which state that the rebels at that place had not increased his force, but a report was current there that he was shortly to be reinforced with 3,000 troops from the interior. No reliance, however, can be placed in it. Gen. Arista still remains quiet at Morelos.

Gen. Arista, the present Governor of Saltillo, has informed the Government that should any demonstration be made by the Army of Mexico against Texas or the United States, his fixed determination is to "declare against" it. Independent of this, the latest intelligence from every quarter, the country appears, in general, to be in a state of alarm that when ever any considerable force is ordered to march on the part of Mexico, to act against us, a general revolution in that part of the country will be the inevitable and immediate consequence.

We have not yet received any information of the arrival of a reinforcement of Mexican troops.

Gen. Saltillo, of frontier notoriety, still remains with his command on this side of the Rio Grande; but as a master of evasion, does not venture very near this place.

General Taylor, of the U. S. forces here, has recommended the sending of the latest intelligence to the State Department, so that if any emergency should arise between the two countries, it may be known at once.

There is no sickness here, either in camp or in town.

The Southeast trade winds are still here this year somewhat later than usual, and the health of the place we consider eminently favorable.

M. E. Astor is a different person from Arista—the former is in command of the Northern forces of Mexico; the latter is Governor of Saltillo.

FROM DELTA.—On Thursday, as we learn from the Herald of yesterday, the British Consul presented to the British Legation a bill of indictment for murder. Hon. Sam. Gordon, Hon. F. S. Browne and Mitchell Stanford, as counsel for plaintiff, were present to put off the cause for the term. Affidavits were presented setting forth that the fact that several masters and ladies witnessed a woman who, when she died, could not have a fair and impartial trial at present, in consequence of the excitement existing in the county of Delaware, and that they intended to make an application for change of venue. The court had no opportunity to prepare themselves for the trial.

The Court was occupied most of the afternoon in hearing the argument, which grew out of the motion—The Court remarked they would not decide the question this afternoon, but would do so the next morning.

At the Court was about adjourning, Amasa Parker, Esq., rose, and said he had an affidavit to make on the subject of the bill of indictment which had been impounded for some time and who was indicted for murder. Colonel Parker went on to state that Briant was an uneducated but naturally intelligent man, who happened to be at least as ignorant as he was himself. He had had a conversation with the prisoner, and believed he was innocent of all crime, though he had probably acted imprudently. He believed that if now set at liberty on his own recognizance to keep the peace, he would be of service in helping execute justice, and had been in cause.

The Court gave facts had her before him before the Attorney General, who was present, and some under-standing arrived as possible.

The Copper Region.

Correspondence of the Hartford Courant.

COPPER HARBOUR, Sept. 14th, 1845.

Within the last two weeks valuable discoveries have been made on many of the copper-bearing veins, due to the coming of a wind spring, which added to a rapid result.

The state of feeling is much better here than a few weeks since; the various Companies seem to be conducting their operations more with a view of making money by mining, than selling stock.

The N. Y. and Boston Companys have a plan to divide the market, which is a great Harboar which promises well. After excavating a few days more I think they will have something better even. But Dead River is probably their best tract, the ores from it seem to be richer and more uniform in any location on Lake Superior, and the Companys Eight miles apart, will bring a harvest of very fine specimens. This is the tract where indications of gold are said to be found, but no much dependence can be placed upon this name.

This tract is covered by all the scientific men as one of the best, if not the best, in the world.

The great point which at once attracted against this Company in consequence of the large tract of country they hold, and its known richness, and the disappointment of some at not obtaining it themselves, seems to have given way to a better state of feeling. Several of the members of the Company have planted themselves in Boston, determined to talk it down, but they can do nothing in the end.

Mr. —— served two days ago in a whale boat, having run 30 miles one day, which however was not sufficient to sustain a whale in any location on Lake Superior, and the Companys Eight miles apart, will bring a harvest of very fine specimens. This is the tract where indications of gold are said to be found, but no much dependence can be placed upon this name.
